The deluge of rain that began to fall in this city and vicinity last evening and continued through the night and to-day is the most disastrous and extraordinary known in the history of New York.

Suburbanites were tied up in their homes or stalled on the railroads

Again the New York Central tunnel was the scene of stalled trains, it being estimated that more than a thousand passengers were held prisoners in the tunnel at one time.

Gemeteries were flooded and the torrents washed the bodies of the dead from their graves.

The entire water front of New York was deluged, the seas shipping far over the Battery walls and the tide and rain filling cellars on the Jersey City, Hoboken, Manhattan and Brooklyn water fronts.

Congested sewers and water drains backed the flood into the conduits, and telephone service in many parts of the city was suspended. Tarrytown and other Hudson River cities were deluged by a cloud-

Ryan Gets Back from Western Trip-Says that He Did Not Even Bet One Cent on The Fiddler.

MORRIS PARK RACE TRACK Oct. 9.-John J. Ryan, of get-richquick fame, was ordered to appear before the stewards of the Jockey Club after the racing to-day and show cause why he should not be kept off the race tracks in the East.

Ryan just returned from the West for several days, where he has bear ceived word from the stewards that he was wanted for a hearing.

When the horse the Fidler, which wo last Saturday as big odds, was suppose to be a ringer, it was said that Ryan had gone West to play the horse. He denied to-day that he had played the norse, and stated that he had been in the West to look after some business office building in Cinennat. Won Big Sums.

Ryan's apeparance on the Easter tracks this season has been a most sensational one. He came here just before the Saratoga meeting and at onc started to wager immense sums of money. He was reported a big winner when the meeting was over. When the Sheepshead Bay meeting ommenced he, in conjunction with George Considine, started to make book in the Metropolitan ring, of which Considine is a member.

"First-Said parties of the first part hereby agree and guarantee that no part of the preferred stock and common stock of the United States Shipbuilding Company, excepting so much only of said 15,000 shares of the preferred stock and 15,000 shares of the common stock which is now to be distributed among said vendors, shall be distributed, sold or otherwise disposed of until after the 25,000 shares of the preferred stock and the 25,000 shares of the common stock to be delivered to J. P. Morgan & Co. and the 75,000 shares of the preferred stock and the 75,000 shares of the common stock to be delive ered to the party of the second part, shall have been marketed, sold and disposed of .- Extract from the United Shipbuilding Company agreement.

The agreement under which the firm of J. P. Morgan & Co and Charles I. Schwab expected to unload 200,000 shares of United States Shipbuilding Company stock on the public for their own benefit before the corporation should be allowed to make a sale is shown here in all its bald significance. it is a weird and cunning document, and the statement issued by the Morgan house yesterday denying the part of the firm in the transly true as it was worded, for the firm does not appear in the agreemen as the party of any part.

But Mr. Nixon and Mr. Dresser agreed with Harris, Gates & Co. and Charles M. Schwab that they would not sell Shipbuilding stock until Mr. Morgan's 50,000 shares and Mr. Schwab's 150,000 shares had been marketed, Younger Woman Writhe in sold and disposed of. It will be hard work to make Wall street believe that the Morgan firm did not know about and coincide with this arrangement. Nor will Wall street believe with facility that the Morgan firm did not know that Mr. Nixon and Mr. Dresser were obligating themselves to tie up their holdings of the stock in a trust until the Morgan and Schwab shares had been "sold and disposed of." It will be noted in the final paragraph of the agreement that Harris, Gates & Co. bound themselves to get as much more than $65 for the preferred and $25 for the common as they could.

THREATS MADE AGAINST DRESSER.

That there are persons who fear the revelations of Daniel Le Roy Dresser about the formation and wrecking of the United States Shipbuilding Company is shown by threats that have been made to him for some time past that he would be criminally prosecuted if he persisted in telling all he knew. These threats have been made at various times for weeks past. man in position to know told The Evening World this afternoon that they came from sources high in the financial world.

The part that Morgan & Co. played in the formation of the trust, described by Mr. Dresser on the stand, is confirmed by Charles G. Gates, to whom was intrusted the job of selling the Mor an and Schwab stock. Mr. Gates said to-day that there was a private agreement between the Morgan An ambulance was called, but the girl firm and Schwab and the Shipbuilding Trust promoters that the Morgan and had died before the accompanying pay- Schwab stock was to be sold before any other stock was put on the market. "I have a copy of the agreement," said Mr. Gates. "It is on the recording that Mr. Dresser, under oath, testified to the agreement."

No trace can be found of Charles M. Schwab, although a horde process-servers are hunting him. It was said at his office to-day that was cut of town, but no one would tell where he is.
